Alberto Priore
freelance web developer

profile

Web developer with more than 10 years of experience in building digital projects with brands, businesses and start-ups for the web world, turned freelance in 2013.

I've covered different roles: Frontend Developer, Backend Developer, Fullstack developer, UI/UX Designer.

Thanks to that, today, I have the opportunity to have an all-round vision of the projects I'm working on, I'm able to work by integrating myself into a project already started, and of course to work with a brand new one following every aspect from the beginning to the end.
